

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: I am interested in bringing my children but one room may not be enough space. But I can't afford two rooms. Is there any alternative that can help me?

A: The Reynolds Court Motel is an option, a little cheaper and more "moving around" space.

Q: As much as I would like to I am not sure I can sit through so many sermons in four days, but I don't want to feel like a truant. Does everyone attend every session?

A: No, in fact many people take some time off to rest, visit other parts of St. Simons, etc. In fact, your chairman skipped a session years ago to play a round of golf! No attendance is compulsory by any stretch.

Q: What version of the Bible is used at SSBC?

A: All music and responsive readings are from the King James Version. Sermons may vary by presenter.

Q: Will there be other group activities available outside the scheduled worship sessions?

A: Yes. Depending on interest a historic trolley tour, campfire with s'mores and ice cream social.

Q: Do I have to dress up like for Sunday church?

A: Sunday dress is never inappropriate, but you would be the exception. Most men wear a golf shirt and slacks while the ladies typically wear pants or a casual dress. We are at a resort and "resort casual" is the preferred style.

Q: I understand some of the rooms are a good distance from the meeting room and dining hall. How much walking is involved?

A: We provide a shuttle service with a dedicated driver to quickly respond to requests for transportation.

Q: I want to participate fully but at my age it looks exhausting. When would I have a break?

A: There is plenty of time for rest built into the program. And if that isn't enough you can always skip a session. We don't want this to be an ordeal!

Q: I am concerned about the cost. $700-$800 for the two of us sounds expensive. How can I be comfortable that this is a good value?

A: We think if you consider all the elements of the Bible Conference you can see that the value is definitely there. First off, you are staying in a spacious and comfortable room, comparable to a mid-range hotel, for three nights. You enjoy nine buffet style meals at the dining facility. And, of course Epworth is providing significant meeting space for our enjoyment. It would be difficult to replicate this by booking a hotel and dining out for four days.

Q: I have heard about something called "pickin' and praisin'" Sounds interesting but I might just want to go to bed.

A: You certainly can turn in, nothing wrong with that. But those who stay either play instruments, sing along, or just tap your toe. It's some great fellowship, and you can go back to your room whenever you like.

Q: What kind of activities are available for kids?

A: Besides attendance at a couple of worship sessions, they also have their own devotions and activities such as swimming, going to the beach, a water park called "Summer Waves", and of course any group activities that are available to everyone.
